Term 2 Week 10

22nd June 2026

From the Principal

Another vibrant and engaging fortnight here at North Dandalup PS has seen our students working hard and enjoying school as the term draws to an end. It has been pleasing to see students approaching their learning with enthusiasm and consistently demonstrating our school values. I mentioned to our students at the assembly this morning that I have enjoyed the opportunity to come into classes and observe their learning. Our teachers continue to provide targeted explicit teaching to the highest standard, which is pleasing to witness. Whether in the classroom or out in the playground, our students continue to build positive relationships and make the most of our great school environment.

A few weeks ago I mentioned a Resilience Project Webinar that was available to our school community. If you missed the presentation on Thursday and would like to view it, I have pasted a message from TRP below. The webinar was very helpful, giving insight into how children engage with learning, particularly students with additional needs. Hugh Van Cuylenburg gave his own take on raising kids, with his lens of wellbeing and the GEM practices that our students have come to know through The Resilience Project.

*As part of our 2026 partnership with The Resilience Project (TRP), Hugh van Cuylenburg, Founder of TRP, ran a Parenting with ACE online presentation for all families of TRP's partnership services. For those who missed it or for anyone who would like to revisit the presentation here is the recording. *Please note this recording expires on 19th July.*

Finally, I would like to announce an exciting opportunity that one of our teachers – Mrs Toni Bennett has taken up. For Semester 2, she will be on a secondment to an area of the Education Department called SSEN:D. This is an exciting chance to develop a whole new skillset involving working with students with additional needs, and we wish Mrs Bennett all the best in this new chapter. This of course means that we will have some new staff teaching in her absence, this will be announced next term when our new staff commence. Good luck Mrs Bennett!

Enjoy the last two weeks of Term 2 everyone!

Rise and shine, North Dandy! 😊
